We are very proud to announce a new feature: We are now supplying our data to Google!

You might have noticed the big button on the bottom right. From now on we are sharing our casino and online gambling expertise with Google through their co-op subscription.

This means we help you in getting a better user experience when using Google's search engine. All you have to do is subscribe to this service by clicking the Google-button at the bottom-right(A Google account is required) and from that point on we will enhance the Google search results with our specific knowledge.

Please let us know what you think!
